All offices, labs and clinics/units at UCSF can now be LivingGreen Certified, helping the university promote a healthier planet by saving trees, reducing waste and using less energy. Recognition of all certifications will be made at the Annual UCSF Sustainability Awards ceremony.

A healthier planet means healthier patients.

Get started at livinggreen.ucsf.edu/getcertified

All offices, labs and clinics/units at UCSF can now be LivingGreen Certified, helping the university promote a healthier planet by saving trees, reducing waste and using less energy. Recognition of all certifications will be made at the Annual UCSF Sustainability Awards ceremony.

A healthier planet means healthier patients.

How are you LivingGreen? Share your experience with #UCSFLivingGreen

“I’m charged with highlighting UCSF’s greatest accomplishments and looking for success stories that show UCSF as a leader in healthcare and sustainability.”

Barbara French
Vice Chancellor, University Relations

Join the Race to Certification.
It’s a fun and easy way to support UCSF’s commitment to sustainability.