Accepting Applications: Carbon Neutrality Initiative (CNI) Fellowships 2020-21

We are excited to announce that we are accepting applications for the 2020-21 Carbon Neutrality Initiative (CNI) Fellowship program. The purpose of this fellowship is to engage the entire university community in seeking out the best practices, policies and technology to achieve carbon neutrality and to advance teaching and research in climate change and sustainability.

For full descriptions of each position, please see here.

CNI Fellowship Projects

1) Validation for Medical Supplies Disinfection Using Ozone Technology: This fellowship will involve studying the antimicrobial efficacy of ozone disinfection devices on different packaging materials, providing data to inform system-wide adoption of medical supplies recovery.

2) Operating Room Overages: This fellowship seeks a surgical resident who will perform an observational study to quantify financial values of wasted supplies after each surgical case.

3) Telehealth and Telework Benefits Pre-and Post COVID: This fellowship will involve studying carbon emissions, environmental benefits, and projects for long-term changes of telehealth and telework policies.

4) Pharmacy Waste Disposal Education: This fellowship will explore and implement strategies to educate patients, visitors, and the UCSF community on proper pharmaceutical waste disposal.

5) Outreach/Engagement Fellow: This fellowship will involve coordinating one event per quarter—such as discussions, competitions, socials, or film screenings—that engages students and faculty in their schools, divisions, or open to all, on topics related to Carbon Neutrality and Sustainability.

6) Outreach/Engagement fellowship for UCSF Health: This fellowship will involve coordinating one event per quarter—such as discussions, competitions, socials, or film screenings—designed to educate and engage on topics of Carbon Neutrality and Sustainability for a health audience or open to all.
